By gathering like-minded educators from all over Vermont interested in helping your students learn how to navigate the entrepreneurial process we'll incorporate highly effective, fun interactive learning experiences that can be integrated into any classroom program of study/discipline:

Whether a student's goals are centered on future college success, preparation for the workforce, or enhancing their high school/career tech experience, learning to think like an entrepreneur has value for all. There is a business side to every career pathway: engineering, technology, design, health care, the arts, hospitality, education, agriculture, the trades and all other areas; the skills and confidence one gains from learning about and creating an "entrepreneurial mindset" will help them succeed now and into the future.
